“A-Rising Potential”

“A develop-MENTAL Focus and Mentor group for males in transition from boys to men!”

A Psycho-educational “Teenage Workshop Series” for adolescents approaching young adulthood. The 12-week group series was developed to target at risk, behaviorally, and/or emotionally challenged adolescents (otherwise referred to as “Rising Potentials or RP’s) through education, mentorship, social learning and healthy fellowship. The workshop series was designed to meet the following goal and objectives as adolescents begin their transition into adulthood:

- ❖ Increase each RP’s sense of social responsibility
- ❖ Increase each RP’s behavioral awareness and accountability
- ❖ Increase RP’s awareness of risk behaviors; decrease/eliminate participation in at risk behaviors
- ❖ Increase each RP’s self-awareness, self-esteem and self-confidence
- ❖ Assist RP’s to establish a clear, healthy and productive life direction
- ❖ Provide opportunities for RP’s to engage in healthy & productive peer relationships through reinforcement of social and interpersonal skills
- ❖ Teach RP’s to make good choices and exercise healthy judgement
- ❖ Increase each RP’s emotional, behavioral and psychological well-being
- ❖ Minimize need for continued service and care post-discharge
